SII Group joins the Gaïa Index, a French SRI stock index

SII Group, a specialist in engineering business lines, is announcing its addition to the 2019 Gaïa Index, a socially responsible investing (SRI) stock market index that highlights SMEs and mid-market companies according to their environmental, social, and governance (ESG) performance.

SII Group is joining the 2019 Gaïa Index, positioned in 37th place (out of 230). As such, SII is joining the top 70 French companies that have received the best extra-financial performance ratings out of a list of 230 publicly traded companies. Over 150 criteria are analysed to evaluate the commitment of the companies on the list in regards to the transparency and maturity of their CSR policies, practises, and performances.

Eric Matteucci, Chairman of the Management Board, commented: “SII Group is proud to join the Gaïa Index. This is a recognition of the commitment of SII’s teams to corporate social responsibility. SII regularly commits to adding new objectives to its CSR initiatives. Operating in 18 countries and involved in the digital transformation of the economy, SII Group invests directly in the socioeconomic development of the places where it operates.”

Gaïa Rating is the ESG rating agency of EthiFinance, specialising in the SME and mid-market segments of publicly traded companies in the European market. Every year, Gaïa Rating publishes the Gaïa Index, the sustainable development index of reference for mid-cap companies. Created 10 years ago, this index outperforms the CAC 40 and the CAC Mid & Small indices every year.
